Doors from the reception hall provide access to a double-aspect sitting room with a feature fireplace, a well-proportioned formal dining room, and a cloakroom/WC with an adjacent storage area.

The open plan kitchen and family room serves as the main hub of the house and provides an excellent space for socialising and entertaining. From the kitchen, a hallway leads into the rear wing, which includes a cosy snug with double aspect views and a wood burning stove, a utility room and a walk-in pantry, while a second staircase provides access to the first floor. This area, along with the second landing and the rooms it contains, has been thoughtfully extended and is suitable for use as part of the main residence or as an annexe.

The private south-facing lawned gardens are located at the front of the property. To the side, there is a sweeping sun terrace with a covered barbecue area, enjoying west-facing sun late into the evening. The property also benefits from a detached oversized garage with power and lighting, an outside tap, and a storage area to the rear of the garage.

Location, Schooling & Services

Heckington is a popular Lincolnshire village located between Sleaford and Swineshead Bridge, surrounded by open countryside. It is well regarded as a desirable place to live and attracts both local buyers and those moving into the area, thanks to its strong community feel, good amenities and easy access to nearby market towns such as Sleaford and Boston.

The village itself offers a good range of facilities including a primary school, doctors' surgery, Co-op food store, chemist, dentist, veterinary practice, independent shops, cafés and takeaway options, along with two well-used public houses. Heckington is particularly well known for its historic eight-sailed working windmill, the only one of its kind in Europe, which also includes a microbrewery and is a real focal point of the village. Community events are well supported, most notably the annual Heckington Show, which attracts visitors from across the region.

Heckington is well suited to families, with a well-regarded primary school in the village and a wide choice of secondary schools in nearby Sleaford. These include Carre's Grammar School, Kesteven and Sleaford High School, St George's Academy and further education facilities.

The village is conveniently placed just off the A17, providing good road links to Sleaford, Boston, Lincoln, Newark, Grantham, Spalding and Bourne.
