Stratford House

Cropwell Butler, Nottingham

Private country estate designed for lifestyle, wellness, entertaining and family living

A residence of rare quality and scale, offering far more than simply a beautiful home. Stratford House is a private country estate offering a combination of refined living with exceptional leisure facilities, extensive equestrian infrastructure, generous accommodation and grounds of approximately eight acres on the edge of the highly regarded village of Cropwell Butler, one of Nottinghamshire's most attractive village settings.

Approached through secure electric gates, the property immediately creates a sense of arrival. A sweeping driveway leads through to the main residence, triple garage and extensive range of outbuildings, while the surrounding gardens, paddocks and countryside outlook provide privacy, scale and a wonderfully rural setting.

The house itself has been designed for both elegant entertaining and relaxed family living. Generous reception spaces, a magnificent country kitchen, an outstanding indoor pool complex, gym, cinema mezzanine and a spectacular billiard and party room combine to create a home that is as practical as it is impressive. With the principal bedroom suite positioned on the ground floor, four further bedrooms to the first floor, beautifully presented garden room and substantial outbuildings, Stratford House offers remarkable flexibility for families, guests, multi-generational living, leisure use or equestrian pursuits.

Key features

Reception Rooms

The spacious entrance hall provides a welcoming introduction to the home, with a sense of space and flow that continues throughout the ground floor. From here, the principal reception rooms are all thoughtfully arranged, creating a home that feels both impressive and highly liveable.

At the heart of the house is the beautifully appointed kitchen and breakfast room, handcrafted by Shortland and designed to combine traditional quality with modern convenience. Rich pippy oak cabinetry, granite work surfaces and a large central island create an elegant yet practical working space, while high-quality appliances include Sub-Zero refrigeration, Miele appliances including a bean to cup coffee machine, and a classic four-oven Aga. The room provides ample space for informal dining, entertaining and everyday family life.

Adjoining the kitchen is a useful pantry and utility room which provides further storage and preparation space, with convenient access to the rear and courtyard areas.

The dining room is a beautifully proportioned reception space, currently used as a reading room enjoying views out over the garden.

This space is also ideal for formal entertaining and family gatherings with French doors opening directly to the gardens, allowing the room to connect effortlessly with the outside during the warmer months.

The spacious sitting room offers a more relaxed space, centred around a contemporary log burning stove and enhanced by generous windows and doors opening to the gardens, this space combines opulent interior design with natural warm materials to create an inviting space perfect for reconnecting with family.

One of the most memorable features of Stratford House is the remarkable study and adjoining billiard and party room. The study is fitted with beautifully crafted oak joinery, providing a superb home office. Concealed within the bookcase is a hidden door, leading through to the extraordinary billiard and party room beyond. This dramatic and spacious entertaining space features oak panelling, a vaulted ceiling, minstrels' gallery, an impressive stone fireplace and bespoke bar area, creating a wonderfully atmospheric room for entertaining on a grand scale.

Principal Suite

The ground floor principal bedroom suite offers luxurious and practical single-level living. The bedroom is generously proportioned and enjoys direct access to the private courtyard, creating a peaceful connection with the outside space.

A substantial dressing room provides excellent fitted storage, while the ensuite bathroom is has been finished to a high standard with a large walk in rain shower and separate bath, completing a private and indulgent principal suite.

Bedrooms

The first floor is arranged to provide excellent family and guest accommodation, with each room offering its own character and outlook.

The inner hall staircase leads to three well-proportioned bedrooms. Two of which are generous double rooms with built in wardrobe, while the third offers further flexibility as a bedroom, nursery, dressing room or study. These rooms are served by a well-appointed family bathroom, creating an ideal arrangement for children or guests.

A second staircase from the entrance hallway gives access to a separate first floor area featuring another bedroom with a balcony overlooking the front of the property, a dressing or study area, bathroom facilities and access to the mezzanine area above the billiard and party room. This section of the house provides a wonderfully private guest or teenager suite, offering excellent independence for older children, visiting guests or those requiring a more self-contained arrangement.

The mezzanine cinema room is a superb leisure space overlooking the billiard and party room below. This elevated area adds another layer to the home's entertainment offering and provides a relaxed retreat for film nights, gaming or informal family use.

Leisure Facilities

The leisure wing is exceptionally impressive with a superb, air-conditioned gym sitting between the main house and pool complex, creating a natural wellness area within the home. The heated indoor swimming pool provides a year-round retreat, with generous poolside space for relaxing and entertaining. The pool room is complemented by a sauna, wet room with double shower and plant room, offering private spa-style facilities rarely found in a family residence of this nature.

A detached brick-built garden room provides a versatile space perfect for watching the wildlife around the ornamental pond all year round.

Further within the grounds is the woodland entertaining area complete with BBQ house and firepit creating a charming space for year-round entertaining, cosy evenings and informal gatherings.

Equestrian Facilities

For equestrian buyers, the property is exceptionally well equipped with extensive stabling, a tack room, feed store, further stores and two substantial barns. The scale and arrangement of the outbuildings offer significant flexibility for horses, livestock, classic cars, machinery, hobbies or business use, subject to any necessary consents. Both barns benefit from Class Q planning permission, creating further potential for future use or development.

Outbuildings

Additional outbuildings include a gardener's kitchen, garden storage and further substantial stable blocks, enhancing the property's practicality and long-term versatility. The triple garage provides excellent secure parking and storage, while the surrounding driveway offers ample additional parking for family and guests.

Outside

Stratford House enjoys views over the vale of Belvoir and Belvoir castle beyond and is set within beautifully established grounds extending to approximately eight acres, combining south facing landscaped gardens, courtyard spaces, paddocks, extensive parking and an impressive range of outbuildings.

The gardens have been designed to complement the scale and character of the house, with formal areas close to the property and more open land beyond. Several terraces and seating areas provide opportunities for outdoor dining and entertaining, while the courtyard offers a more sheltered and intimate space directly connected to the principal living areas.

A beautifully arranged internal courtyard sits at the centre of the home, accessed from several areas and providing a sheltered outdoor space for morning coffee, quiet relaxation or evening drinks. This courtyard gives the house an additional lifestyle dimension, bringing natural light into the surrounding rooms and creating a calm, private focal point.

Location

Stratford House occupies a desirable position on the edge of Cropwell Butler, a highly regarded Nottinghamshire village surrounded by attractive countryside. The village is known for its rural charm, attractive setting and strong sense of community, while remaining well connected for everyday amenities and wider regional access.

Nearby villages and towns provide a range of shops, pubs, schooling and leisure facilities, with Nottingham, Leicester, Melton Mowbray and Grantham all accessible for more extensive services. The surrounding countryside offers excellent walking, riding and outdoor pursuits, making the location particularly appealing for those seeking a balance between rural lifestyle and convenience.

For commuters, the area is well placed for road links, with access to the A46, A52, A1 and wider Midlands network. Grantham station provides direct rail services to London King's Cross, making the property suitable for buyers requiring access to the capital while enjoying the space and lifestyle of a substantial country home.
